

Across Ontario and beyond, Women living with HIV and communities most affected by HIV continue to show deep resistances, resilience, compassion, ingenuity and love.

Part of radical resistance is community care, self-care and collective love. Today, and everyday we hope to remind you that:

You are valuable, You are cared for, You Matter and You are Loved.

Thank you for being you.

Across Ontario and beyond, Women living with HIV and communities most affected by HIV continue to show deep resistances, resilience, compassion, ingenuity and love.

Part of radical resistance is community care, self-care and collective love. Today, and everyday we hope to remind you that:

You are valuable, You are cared for, You Matter and You are Loved.

Thank you for being you.

Across Ontario and beyond, Women living with HIV and communities most affected by HIV continue to show deep resistances, resilience, compassion, ingenuity and love.

Part of radical resistance is community care, self-care and collective love. Today, and everyday we hope to remind you that:

You are valuable, You are cared for, You Matter and You are Loved.

Thank you for being you.

Across Ontario and beyond, Women living with HIV and communities most affected by HIV continue to show deep resistances, resilience, compassion, ingenuity and love.

Part of radical resistance is community care, self-care and collective love. Today, and everyday we hope to remind you that:

You are valuable, You are cared for, You Matter and You are Loved.

Thank you for being you.

